

2.

1. Adopt a Coaching Mindset

5 Steps to Coaching Under-Performers

	Set a time and place to have a private	☐ Build off strengths.
	coaching conversation.	☐ Manage your tone and body
	Be fully present.	language. Keep it positive.
]	Use empathy.	☐ Focus on short-term goal
) 	Use the SBI Model to Give Constructive	Feedback
	Invite the coachee to a meeting and Once at the meeting, thank the coache
	<ul> <li>Describe the Situation.     Describe the specific situation in which the behavior occurred. Include the time and place to reduce any confusion.</li> </ul>
	<ul> <li>Describe the Behavior.         Describe the actual, observable behavinserting any opinions or judgments.     </li> </ul>	vior being discussed. Keep to facts only and avoid
	<ul> <li>Describe the Impact.     Describe the results of the behavior in positive or negative.</li> </ul>	terms of the impact it had, whether the effect was
3	3. Use Coaching Questions to begin to pr	oblem solve and create action steps
	☐ What was your intention when you th	ink back on this situation?
	☐ Would you do anything differently no	w?
	$\hfill\Box$ Going forward, what would it take to	ensure success?
	☐ What is getting in the way of that?
	$\ \square$ What ideas do you already have for i	nanaging obstacles?
	$\square$ Let's think together to create some n	ext steps and SMART Goal them.
	$\square$ Let's set a time to meet up on your p	rogress.

4.	Determine	the core	problem	and	needs

Employees underperform for many reasons. Try to think through where the performance deficits you see are coming from:

- ☐ Problems in their personal life
- ☐ Burnout or wellness issues
- ☐ Workplace conflict
- ☐ Skill gaps
- ☐ Lack of motivation

5. If useful, create a plan to move ahead using

The SMART Goal Worksheet.

- Build off existing strengths.
- Make sure to establish a timeline for checking-back on progress.
- Keep goals short-term.

SMART Goal Worksheet

Project: Start Da		ate:	Due Date:
S	M	Α	R
SPECIFIC	MEASURABLE	ACHIEVABLE	RELEVANT	TIME BOUND
Improve written business communication	Keep track of all emails and review for completeness every month	This can be achieved by having email/document writing strategy	This is relevant to the business and will add value to communicate clearly	This needs to be achieved by end of Q3 2021

