CLI: Your New Organizational Development Partner

1. What we believe: We are fiscally conscientious and work with you to ensure that services are delivered within your budget.
2. Our sessions are custom-tailored to your business and staff. We start with your training objectives and vision, look to reinforce and build upon any previous training, learn the language and culture of your organization, and design a training approach and delivery plan that is consistent with the needs of your people.
3. We bring a passionate approach to our work, using a combination of mini-learning lessons reinforced through experiential activities, role-plays, small group work, individual solo time, videos, music, thought-provoking quotes, and great small and large group discussions.
4. Our training designs can be offered in single or multiple sessions, as instructor-led classroom sessions or via our web learning site, or your LMS virtually.

We customize all of our work with you:

- We learn about your culture and values.
- We scope your business to understand your world.
- We develop learning objectives and outcomes.
- Together, we design the best possible strategy, coaching or training approach to motivate and skill your people.
- We assess our impact to exceed your expectations and ensure an ideal outcome!

Strategy Facilitation

Vision, Purpose, Values—are they only on your website to impress or do your employees embrace and live them?

Are they the new flavor of the month or the foundation of your company's culture, deliverables, and success?

We can help you craft the right language, then facilitate the alignment of your people to ensure success.

The Corporate Learning Institute specializes in working with organizations in need of organizational change.

Often, we begin with reviewing or creating your purpose-your "why." We co-develop a vision of the future. Then we tackle your values-how you get work done in your organization. Our strategic facilitation process also looks at the key result areas of the organization and helps shift your organization's culture towards higher performance. Next, we filter down to the strategic planning process, which directly impacts each employee in your organization.

We facilitate both virtually and live - and infuse passion into every strategic mission we undertake.

The CLI High Performance Coaching and Counseling Program: Virtual or Live

As doctoral level coaches, we develop the talent in your organization. Our blended learning format includes face-to-face or telecoaching coupled with web-based assessments, learning tools and eWorkbooks.

Our Connections Coaching and Counseling Solutions Services provides blended counseling/coaching using Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT) to help stabilize and grow your talented workforce. We offer tele-therapy as well as in-office sessions to assure that we meet the needs of each employee. You can select from a variety of valuable assessments to add to your coaching and counseling sessions. Contact Dr. Susan Cain, LCSW, at scain@corplearning.com to get started!

"We hired CLI because of their breadth and depth of knowledge on leadership and professional development."

Supervising and Managing - Available in Virtual or Live Training Formats

Introduction to Management and Supervision

Built upon a foundation of invaluable how-to principals, this session defines the differences between supervisors, managers, and leaders. We explore an in-depth understanding of the characteristics and responsibilities of supervisors and managers, with attendees learning about their own supervisory/management style and how a personal development plan can optimize their approach.

Learning objectives include communicating clear expectations, delegating, conflict management, effective time and meeting management. Case studies and real-life application sessions complete this excellent customizable workshop.

Understanding Your Personal Approach to Managing using Everything DiSC for Managers

The preferred style or approach to interacting with employees can make or break a good manager. In this session, participants work to understand their managing style, strengths and limitations, and enhance these skills to effectively manage different employee styles.

This session includes a web-based assessment and eWorkbook plus customized job aids.

Managing in the Moment with Situational Leadership II Concepts

Situational Leadership II is a basic core supervisory tool that teaches managers how to manage employees based on their developmental level.

The assessment helps managers identify the specific leadership needs of followers. This session includes a self-scoring management instrument, workbooks and job aids.

Everything DiSC 363 Leadership Profile® and Coaching

Leaders benefit from direct feedback, and this assessment provides immediate feedback on a leader's impact on their own leader, peers and followers. The assessment is easy to read, and contains information on personal strengths and challenges, recommendations, and an action planning section. Our coaching or workshop content is geared to help leaders improve their current impact with actionable tools and job aids.

Workplace Skill-Building Workshops - Available in Virtual or Live Formats

Motivation, Accountability & Performance

Motivation is not just about “pumping people up.” Managers must understand the psychology behind motivation to understand how to truly create a motivational environment where people keep themselves motivated. The theories of Maslow and Herzberg are used to differentiate between what motivates an individual and what satisfies them at work. Managers also learn about three types of accountability—being held accountable, personal accountability and mutual accountability—and strategies on how to make the most of each.

Conflict Management & Effective Negotiations

Participants will understand the value of conflict, learning tools and techniques for effective conflict resolution. The group will also learn successful negotiation tactics that will assist in developing win-win situations for all involved. This session includes two optional web-based conflict instruments, the Thomas-Kilmann Conflict Indicator (TKI), or the Kraybill Conflict Style Inventory.

Managing Your Diverse Workforce

This highly participative session incorporates experiential activities as the means to discuss the diversity and differences inherent in all organizations today. This thought-provoking session incorporates custom-designed, company-specific case studies and research on how to manage across generations, gender, cultural and educational differences.

We offer two training focus options: The Engaged Associate and The Inclusive Leader.

Using Emotional Intelligence at Work

We combine DISC with our own Emotional Intelligence assessment to help your people get an accurate picture of their impact at work. This training program builds personal awareness as a core skill. Participants will assess their DISC style and understand how others perceive them. We will introduce emotional intelligence skills that impact both personal and social well-being. Personal coaching and a personal action plan are featured in this course.

Introducing the New DISC Professional Styles Assessment: An Affordable DISC Option that Builds Collaboration Skills in your Organization

We have developed a NEW DISC assessment that combines information with functionality at a price point you can afford. Our new DISC Professional Styles Profile allows you to instantly use DISC in your organization, free from additional requirements like certification processes or memberships. Contact Dr. Susan Cain at scain@corplearning.com to start using this amazing tool!

Developing a Feedback-Rich Culture

There is evidence everywhere that feedback enables performances development, This workshop focuses on the rewards of effective feedback, how to give, receive and manage the feedback process. Feedback models and tools will be introduced to allow participants to transfer learning back to work situations.

MBTI and You

This training session enables participants to complete the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator online before the program. Your session will include an overview of the MBTI, a review of work and group communication styles, and time spent on improving group cohesion, communication, and trust.

Time Mastery Profile®

The Time Mastery Profile® is a unique tool that provides people with a complete self-directed assessment of their time management effectiveness. The instrument is comprised of 60 statements that describe employees' time-related behavior in twelve categories: Attitudes, Goals, Priorities, Analyzing, Planning, Scheduling, Interruptions, Meetings, Written Communications, Delegation, Procrastination, and Team Time.

Team Dimensions Profile® for Project Teams

The Team Dimensions Profile is a unique, self-directed learning instrument that helps individuals work from their strengths by identifying their most natural team role -- Creator, Advancer, Refiner, Executor, and Flexor. The profile is designed to teach the importance of each role and further the appreciation of each individual's contribution.

Develop your Innovation Team with the FourSight Assessment® Workshop!

The FourSight Creativity Assessment helps innovation team members discover their natural approach to creativity and innovation. Our workshop helps your innovation team move through the stages of team development to leverage the natural talent hidden in the team.
